Kane Forest Preserve Foundation Presents Inaugural Golf Outing: Swing for Conservation at Hughes Creek Golf Course

GENEVA, IL — The Kane Forest Preserve Foundation is excited to announce its inaugural Golf Outing, which will take place on Thursday, Sept. 12, at Hughes Creek Golf Course, located at 1749 Spring Valley Dr., Elburn.

Golf enthusiasts and nature lovers are invited to join us for a day of camaraderie, competition, and conservation.

“We’re thrilled to host our first Golf Outing, bringing together golfers and nature enthusiasts to support our vital conservation efforts,” said Becky Gillam, Chairman of the Kane Forest Preserve Foundation. “Golfers can enjoy a fun outing on the course, and make a positive impact on our local environment.”

The Kane Golf Outing runs 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. and includes 18 holes of golf, breakfast, lunch and dinner, beverage tickets, and opportunities to win raffle prizes.

Individual golfers can register for $150, while a foursome can register for $400. Every dollar raised from this event directly supports the Kane Forest Preserve Foundation’s mission to preserve and enhance Kane County’s natural areas, including trails, trees, and wildlife habitats.

In addition to participating as a golfer, businesses and individuals have the opportunity to support the event through various sponsorship packages. To explore sponsorship opportunities, visit:
